A WOMAN'S BACK

The Advice of This Alma Woman is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains. Ofttimes 'tis the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective. Ask your neighbor? Many Alma women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. William Story, 505 River Ave., Alma, says: "About a year ago I was bothered with my back. Sharp, darting pains seemed to go all through my back and I was in misery. When I went to dust or sweep. My back was lame and sore and when I tried to stoop or lift anything, terrible pains caught me and I could hardly straighten. I had dizzy spells and many times spots came before me. I suffered with headaches and my kidneys were so bad that I was always tired and too weak to do my work. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a few boxes at Murphy's Drug Store. They entirely cured me."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Story had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—87-2w

Five Minute Chats on Our Presidents

By JAMES MORGAN

(Copyright, 1920, by James Morgan.)

AN UNHAPPY PRESIDENT

1788—John Adams elected vice president.
 1792—Re-elected vice president.
 1796—Elected president.
 1797—Inaugurated second president, aged 61.
 1800—Concluded peace with France. Defeated for second term by Jefferson.
 1820—Member of Massachusetts constitutional convention.
 1826—July 4, died, aged 90.

PROBABLY John Adams was the unhappiest man who ever sat in the presidential chair. One of a dozen unwanted presidents, who were taken only because the men that were wanted could not be elected, this humble role embittered all the remaining days of the proudest man in the line of our chief magistrates.

It was hard enough for Adams to be the understudy even of George Washington, while serving as vice president. When he became president it was maddening to his ego that he should be expected to play second fiddle to Alexander Hamilton, the master spirit of the old governing class, left over from colonial times and which controlled the Federalist party.

The president made the fatal mistake of keeping Washington's cabinet, which really had passed under the control of Hamilton, who presumed to direct the new administration, very much as a Tammany boss puts a Tammany mayor through his paces. As Adams never had succeeded in ruling himself it was impossible for another to rule him.

Like aristocrats everywhere, the Federalists were thrown into a state of panic by the French revolution and by the rise of the Jeffersonian democracy in our yet aristocratic republic. In their alarm they frantically rushed through congress the alien and sedition acts, which became only millstones about their necks, sinking their party forever. Not satisfied with shutting the revolution out of the New World, many of them were for joining the monarchical coalition against it in the Old World. In an uproarious quarrel with the absurd French directory, the militia was called out and Washington summoned to command it, after which the president astonished the jingoes by suddenly throwing them over and returning to a pacific policy.

As he had been the first minister to England, John Adams was also the first president to take up his residence in Washington. As Mrs. Adams had been the wife of the first American envoy in London she was also the first mistress of the White House. If for only a few months. On the way from Philadelphia she and the president lost their trail in the wilderness until a "straggling black" came to their assistance.

The capitol was yet unfinished, and out of a desolate bog, far off, the unfinished White House rose to view. There was neither a fence nor a tree about the structure, and the president's nearest neighbor dwelt half a mile away. Mrs. Adams had a hard time to get wood enough to keep her family warm in the big, bleak mansion, and she smiles at us still as her letters tell us of how she hung her washing to dry in the great east room.

After sitting at his desk until midnight hastily signing appointments, to forestall his successor, Adams drove out of Washington at the dawning of the day of Jefferson's inauguration. He had no smiles to bestow on the triumph of his rival, and few enough to light his own pathway, through his remaining years.

After his brave, good helpmeet had been taken from him, he lived on eight years more, lived to see what no other ex-president has seen, a son in the White House. At ninety, as he lay dying in the sunset of the fiftieth Fourth of July, we are told that his thoughts turned to the first and most glorious Fourth and that his lips murmured "Thomas Jefferson still survives." The author of the Declaration really had died a few hours before, and in their flight from earth the spirits of the two old patriots of '76 were strangely united again.

Distinction Worth Noting.
 Receive your thoughts as guests, but treat your desires as children.

Daily Thought.

Talks to Farmers (No. 1)

Lumber is Down

Yes, Lumber is down—down to where a farmer can afford to build anything that can be made of lumber, even in the face of a low market on farm products.

Lumber was the last great commodity to go up and the first to come down. Today lumber prices are down to where it is hard to see how they can go any lower when costs are considered.

You farmer have reason to be disappointed in the returns from last year's crops, but with lumber selling on the present basis we don't believe you can afford not to do whatever building or repairing may be necessary before Spring work commences.

Whether it's a barn, or a shed, or just some board for fixing up around the place, the facts about lumber will appeal to any man or woman who believes in thrift and knows values.

Come in and talk over your particular problems. We want to be helpful, and we welcome an opportunity to show you.

In the days of George Washington the nation responded to its leader's call for unified action—men and women pooled their strength, faith and purposes in the struggle for liberty and progress, and they won.

OUR own problems can be met in identically the same way as problems were met in George Washington's time.

Let's work together—have faith in ourselves and each other, in our neighbors and in the nation—reach out for a goal, and we'll all win.

—the old spirit should guide every individual and industry. Hold fast to confidence—work—achieve—live, think and act growth and progress.

This store's business policy breathes the new progress. That is why we offer Kuppenheimer Good Clothes and other fine merchandise at prices that are in accord with the lower market costs.
